Argos Health makes Black Book's List for Top-Performing Financial Digital Transformation Vendors

Argos Health makes Black Book's list for top-performing vendors among in-demand financial software, systems and outsourcing services. Black Book's survey assessed 18 indicators of client experience, loyalty and customer satisfaction among nearly 1,600 hospital and healthcare system Chief Financial Officers, Vice Presidents of Finance and RCM, Controllers, Business Office Managers, Staff, Consultants, and Directors as well as 124 CEOs to ensure a comparison in organizational viewpoints.

There is an absolute and immediate need for digital transformation in finance divisions of healthcare organizations to achieve long term survival according to 80% of CFOs surveyed.

"The latest wave of challenges accompanying the shift to value-based care finds most providers navigating through empowering virtual health, initiating highly patient positive experiences and sinking margins," said Black Book's Managing Partner Doug Brown.

"Since inception, Argos Health had a singular focus: to be the number one complex claims solution in the country. This acknowledgment by Black Book that Argos Health is the highest-rated vendor in customer satisfaction and client experience in the complex claims category solidifies our place in the market," said Argos Health CEO, Brent McCarty. "At Argos, we have always felt we offered the highest level of service to our clients, and to have a ranking like this affirms our client hospitals feel the same way. We are honored to be listed at the top."
